

MEAT FOR THE KING

By † Mukil †

Some time ago (No1. knows when) kind of some Kingdom (No1, knows which king or Kingdom), decided to allow cannibalism. »Meat is meat«, king said and »it's O.K.«. to eat any meat one desires. Trade increased and soon rich people started buying and eating fresh girl-meat, the most expensive meat on meat market. Slaves and meat became more expensive then gold.

Countries went into war and those who lost simply lost all female inhabitants and got extinct. Kind wanted more and soon all slaves were turned to meat and even non – slaves could easily become if they broke any of king's new stupid laws.

Dungeons soon became full. King kept filling them with fresh meat for meat traders.

When one was selected girls usually screamed, but sooner or later each one of them found out that there is no use to scream. They were meat waiting to be slaughtered.

Sooner or later each one of them gave up. Butchers threatened these girls nice till their end.

No1. knows what happened. Floods, fire, comets...but this kingdom got lost. Lost in time and forgotten by many.

But some still remember it. It's in their minds as erotic fantasy and it came back to live with the new technologies and Internet.

I am one of those people. A storyteller from this forgotten place and you can see all my new stories at Female meat market.

The number of these books to give away is up to 100 and the first ones asking me for invite will get to read it.

B.T.W. Feel free to forward this to any ON-TOPIC forum, group... I simply love to see my work forwarded – it gives me impression that someone likes and collects my stuff and I simply love to see my stuff reposted – with some credits or links (of corse). My places are free and always as good as number of active posters.
